Email from unknown senders in an assumed name of our company officer

Be careful of a false e-mail offering employment:

We have recently become aware of e-mails offering job or business opportunities sent to individuals and companies by unknown senders in an assumed name of our company officer. The senders' e-mail addresses have the domain names such as [kkyb.co.jp], [kybonlinejp.com] and [kybcorporation.org], none of which are ours. Please be careful of those types of false e-mails.

SAMPLE EMAIL:

Hello,

Thanks for your mail. I was not referred to your company. I got your information from Google. I was searching for a company when i saw your information and i decided to contact to seek your help. I hope you can be of help to my company and i will be more than happy if you represent my company. Please i want you to get back to me as soon as possible to enable me know if you are still interested in representing my company.

I await your prompt response.

Kindest Regards
